SO COOL

During the Young Eagle rally last Saturday, two of my passengers were a pair of cute redheaded sisters who were clearly very enthused about the flight even before we climbed aboard. They were full of questions and tickled to hear their voices in the headsets. The older sister, sitting in front, lightly held the yoke until time for take-off when I reminded her the plane only had one pilot. As we climbed, they both watched in fascination as the landscape fell away and one of them remarked "This is so cool." That phrase was repeated frequently during the flight as they noticed various objects on the ground and relished in the ability to see the world from a new perspective.

When we reached a safe altitude, I permitted my young co-pilot to manipulate the controls, which she did with a gentle touch, and the familiar phrase "This is so cool." When it came time to land I again needed to remind her to keep her hands off the yoke and to refrain from chattering while I talked on the radio. After landing and getting their pictures and other goodies they were still bubbling over with enthusiasm and wanted to know when they could go again.

I flew several other kids Saturday and all were enjoyable flights but they didn't all exhibit the unbridled joy of flight exhibited by the two redheads. I suspect the bug that infects us pilots has bitten them. All is all, the rally was a delightful day and I suspect the pilots have as much fun as the kids and it is so cool.

August 26th will be our last picnic for the summer and Donna has lined up an interesting program for the meeting. I hope to see you all there.

Gary Johnson

Thank You Letter From Laura Dunham

Hello Donna, how are you? I am excellent! The weather here is beautiful, between 75-85 every day with crystal blue skies. I have taken my placement tests, 89% in math, not too shabby for a rusty brain, and I will receive my English scores by mail. Registration is on the 22nd, I'm also looking forward to that. I have applied for student loans as well to cover costs. FASFA is awarding me $2,600 per quarter, which is a great start. Your chapters donations totaled $300, thank you so much. I am very grateful!

It was a delight to meet everyone at the meeting, I received a lot of good advice from many of them. I had a safe trip over and every thing is falling into place, I'm so excited! I will write again soon.

Take care, thank you again for your heart felt effort.
Laura
